Figure 1 consists of four scatter plots arranged in a 2x2 grid. The top row represents the year 1990, and the bottom row represents the year 2000. The left column represents the United States, and the right column represents the United Kingdom. Each plot has 'Number of children' on the x-axis and 'Number of adults' on the y-axis. The data points are represented by small circles. In the 1990 plots, there is a clear positive correlation between the number of children and the number of adults. In the 2000 plots, the correlation is much weaker, with many households having children but no adults.
